Help Reduce Food Waste and Food Insecurity

join us

LocalShare connects people in need to locally grown, natural foods. By involving the volunteer efforts of everyone in our community, we glean foods from local fields, turning what farmers could not harvest into nutrition for our neighbors who need it most.

farmers

Local farmers allow us to glean food leftover in the fields after the harvest, donating it to hungry neighbors nearby.

food pantries

LocalShare distributes fresh produce to the hard-working folks at pantries, soup kitchens and social services to feed those in need.

volunteers

Volunteers harvest and deliver the food, giving their time and skills to help the hungry in their own communities.

GLEANNING & MORE
A Foodshed Alliance Project

LocalShare connects food pantries and local farms so that crops left after the harvest--food that usually goes to waste--feeds hungry families instead. We need volunteers to help with gleaning and delivery. This is a great way to give back to the community while getting fresh air and a little exercise. We're looking for individuals as well as groups from corporations, churches, and youth and community organizations. Email info@localsharenj.org or call (908) 362-7967 for more information.
